Ready... Set... Let's EAT!

When you are planning your upcoming Disney vacation, it is important to be prepared in mind, body and spirit for one of Walt Disney World's most tantalizing experiences: their food!

To put it very plainly: their food is nothing short of amazing. From snack offerings and their quick-service (read: fast-food) options, your tastebuds will not leave Disney disappointed (and your stomach won't be empty either)!

Keep reading for more details and info on the creme de la creme of the Walt Disney World vacation experience: Walt Disney World food and dining!

Dining Options

At Walt Disney World, you have a few options to choose from if you're looking to save on dining. There are four dining plans.

Each plan is designed depending on the needs of your family. No matter which plan you choose, all of them deliver Disney's high level of quality in every bite!

- Fine / Signature Dining
- Casual / Table Service Dining
- Counter / Quick Service Dining
- Snacks

Fine / Signature Dining

For guests seeking more upscale food and dining experiences, Disney offers a variety of signature dining experiences at theme parks and Disney hotel resorts alike!

For the most part, guests select and build their meals based on an extensive and carefully crafted menu. Appetizers, desserts and specialty beverage options abound, as do creative and flavorful dishes that guests may be hard-pressed to find anywhere else!

While meals at these dining locations do sport a heftier price tag, if an unbelievable dining experience is at the top of the vacation to-do list, then exploring the fine-dining options at the Walt Disney World resort will be more than a worthwhile expenditure of time (and tastebuds!)

Casual Sit-Down / Table Service Dining

Whether regrouping after an exciting day in the parks, or pausing for a mid-day break, a casual or table-service meal offers a great reason to sit for a bit and enjoy an exceptional Disney food-based experience!

Categories of Casual Sit-Down / Table Service Dining

- Buffet
- Family Style
- A la carte
- Character Dining

Table Service: Buffet dining

All-you-can-eat buffet: who doesn't love to hear those words?! And at Disney, whether dining in-park or dining at one of the resort hotels, guests are guaranteed to never leave a buffet hungry!

At Disney, there are buffet options for all three meals with fixed pricing for both adults and children. Breakfast buffets are generally a more budget-friendly option, but don't rule out the delicious cuisine offered on lunch and dinnertime menus! After working up an appetite from a busy morning or day navigating the parks, a sit-down meal at a delicious dinner buffet is often the perfect way to unwind and reflect!

Additionally, always look for the sweets and/or dessert sections of the buffet - even at breakfast time! Disney doesn't mess around with, or leave out sweets' depots in any buffet situation!

Lastly, don't forget that character dining CAN be found at buffets, and it's a great option for travelers who want to fill up on all the delicious food that they are to eat, while spending some QT and individualized photo op moments with their favorite Disney characters!

Table Service: Family Style

Family-style dining is a close cousin to buffet dining! For a family-style meal, servers bring large bowls with multiple portions of each of the restaurant's pre-selected and featured recipes to the guests' tables. Guests then portion out their own servings and the servers refill the tables' dishes as often as is needed! Adult and children's pricing differs, but all dining guests share from the same serving bowl (not a separate "offering" for kids vs. adults).

The menu for a family-style type of meal does not offer as many options as an all-you-can-eat buffet, as the family-style menu is usually "fixed" and set in place prior to the guests arriving to dine. However, even with a family-style meal, each dining location provides a couple of different main course options in the shared serving dishes arriving at the table! There is always something for everyone at a family-style meal!

Garden Grill is a well known character dining location that offers a "family style" dining option! (TIP: This is a good thing since the restaurant is slowly moving as you dine!)

*NOTE: During COVID, locations that formerly operated as buffets have transitioned to a "family style" dining option as a way to minimize contact amongst guests

A la Carte / Sit-down

Traditional sit-down dining is a welcome option at Disney! At many restaurants across the property (both in-park and at resorts), the traditional concept of sit-down dining is alive and well.

Especially when considering the different parks, guests should expect heavy (and exceptionally detailed) theming, which in addition to the excellent food, really raises dining experiences to the next level. For example, the 50's Prime Time Cafe in Hollywood Studios will captivate diners' palettes with a flashback feast as found in the 1950s, and dining in the World Showcase at such a location as Le Cellier will offer guests an immersive sampling of traditional and taste-worthy Canadian fare!

Guests can expect menus that offer appetizers, salads, main courses, desserts and a variety of beverage options. Children's menus, allowing guests to create a more individualized dining experience for their children, are also the norm.

Table Service: Character Dining

Walt Disney World is known for MAGIC in all areas from rides and entertainment to dining experiences!

Disney extends their special brand of magic to their character dining: sit-down opportunities for special interactions with characters while enjoying a meal at popular dining locations.

Character availability varies from restaurant to restaurant, and sometimes, even within restaurants, the characters present may vary between breakfast and lunch/dinner seatings!

Character dining opportunities are usually available at a buffet, or family-style service dining location, and they provide more individualized and less rushed interaction with the characters than do the traditional in-park meet and greets.

Do character meals cost more than regular meals at say, a sit-down, a la carte restaurant situation? Yes, they do! But, are they worth it? ABSOLUTELY!

Counter / Quick-Service Dining

Disney calls their “fast-food” style of dining, “Quick-Service.” When we talk about Quick-Service at Disney, we aren’t talking just standard drive-thru fare. Disney’s Quick-Service options are well-crafted, delicious and GENEROUS! Is it possible to just dine at Quick-Service locations for the duration of your trip, and still have a magical time? DEFINITELY!

Dining at Quick-Service locations also can be great time-savers! Instead of sitting down and being waited on by servers, Quick-Service dining offers offers the flexibility of unscheduled eating whenever it’s convenient (not prescheduled!), and making dining locations based on where you are in the parks when you are hungry, AND on what appeals to you at the time!

And don’t forget that while in the parks, Mobile Ordering is a great way enjoy Quick-Service dining yet simultaneously save time. Order on-the-go and have the order ready and waiting (or close to ready!) upon arrival for pick it up!

SNACKS

Delicious snacks are a wonderful benefit, AND a great daily souvenir of the overall Disney experience.

Disney snacks are not just a granola bar, or a bag of potato chips. When thinking “snacks” at Disney, get ready to see options for unique, snackable fare that is often customized to particular resorts, specific areas of each park and even holidays and celebrations!

And don't forget to grab an iconic Mickey ice cream bar, and snap a photo! That is a classic snack for a reason!!!

Mobile Order

Mobile Ordering

Quick-Service

VS.

Table-Service

From your MyDisneyExperience app, guests frequenting Quick-Service locations within any of the four Disney parks, are able to select a restaurant, create a meal order, and prepay for their entire meal ahead of time!

After that, guests make their way to the Quick-Service dining location at their designated pick-up time to enjoy the convenience of quickly picking up their customized meal! Not having to stand in line to order and wait for a meal order is a huge time saver and means that more time can be spent on rides and in-park FUN!

Even at some Disney Resort hotels, guests can pre-order and prepay for meals at their hotel's onsite, sit-down dining locations, and enjoy "carry-out" meals in the comfort of their hotel rooms!

Again, this convenient perk minimizes the time that guests spend waiting to order and for their meal to be prepped! Instead, guests can pick-up their completed orders at their designated return window, and spend more of their time enjoying Disney resorts' vast array of unique amenities!

Disney Dining Plan

Disney dining plans are great options for travelers who want to travel to Disney and know that much, if not all, of their dining is already “covered.” Dining plans are added onto a vacation package before travel, and the plans are added for each individual in the travel party. They are priced accordingly for adult and child travelers!

The number of plan “meal credits” received “per person” is based on the total number of nights in the stay, and complimentary (and Disney-themed!) reusable mugs are available for participating guests for unlimited refilling (and refueling!) purposes while at their particular hotel resort.

Dining plan options abound for travelers of all budgets and dining interests! And, if you love the option of character meals, many character dining opportunities are covered by some of Disney’s dining plans!

Enjoy a glass of beer or wine, or even a cocktail with your meal? That’s great because beverages are included with meals for all levels of the dining plans! And, guests ages 21 and over can even substitute in an alcohol-based beverage from a select menu of options at different dining locations!

Gettin' Around... Many Magical Ways

Types of Transportation at Walt
Disney World Resort:

- Bus
- Monorail
- Skyliner
- Water Transportation
- Minnie-Van Service
- Car

Buses

Getting to and from any of the Disney theme parks, as well as Disney Springs, is quick, easy and enjoyable with Disney Transport buses!

Disney Transport buses carry guests back and forth between parks and resorts both regularly and frequently! And these buses are BIG, offering guests both sitting and standing room.

Buses are also equipped to carry scooters and other mobility-assistance vehicles safely to and from desired destinations?

Got strollers? No problem! After folding up a stroller, whether it's a double, single or triple, there will be room to keep it right with you when making use of these buses and travel to locations of choice!

Monorail

The Monorail that runs around and through the Walt Disney World Resort is not only a iconic and nostalgic must-do experience on a Disney vacation, but it is also a functional form of transportation around the resort property!

Guests can ride the Monorail to travel between Magic Kingdom and Epcot (off-boarding and switching “routes” at the Ticket and Transportation Center). Some of the most prominent Magic Kingdom area resorts are right on the Monorail lines, which offers those resort guests a very streamlined way to access both the Magic Kingdom and Epcot theme parks.

Don't rule out the Monorail as a fun, and restful, way to navigate your day at Walt Disney World! Remember: it's a useful form of resort-area transportation disguised as part of a memorable and iconic Disney vacation experience!

Disney's Skyliner

The Disney Skyliner system is Walt Disney World's shiniest new method of transportation! Providing guests with an unbelievable aerial view of the widespread resort, this innovative and continuously moving sky-based gondola system provides another functional form of transportation in a highly memorable delivery package!

Disney carefully crafted and implemented this system to provide resort guests with an alternative form of transportation between Epcot and Hollywood Studios, and between select resorts and the two aforementioned theme parks.

Resorts which currently offer Skyliner "depots" (read: locations on which guests may on-board and disembark the Skyliner) include the Art of Animation, POP Century, Riviera and Pop Century resorts! Disney's Caribbean Beach Resort is also a "stop" on the Skyliner, and the station at this resort is actually considered the "hub" of the whole system meaning that much like the Magic Kingdom area Transportation and Ticket Center, guests disembark at the Caribbean Beach location and reboard a different Skyliner "line" to take them to their desired endpoint.

Magic Kingdom

FERRYBOAT

Water Transportation

Navigating around Walt Disney World is not just limited to ground travel! Disney also provides guests with a variety of water transportation options.

A partially open-air ferryboat provides guests with round-trip service between the Magic Kingdom theme park to the Transportation & Ticket Center.

Resort water taxis (aka launches) connect guests between Magic Kingdom theme park and Wilderness Lodge; Fort Wilderness Resort and Campground; Grand Floridian Resort & Spa and the Polynesian Villas & Bungalows

Watercraft service is also available to connect guests staying at Disney's Boardwalk or Beach Club Villas; the Yacht Club Resort and the Walt Disney World Swan or Dolphin Hotels to the EPCOT and Hollywood Studios theme parks.

Additionally, resort guests enjoying stays at Port Orleans Riverside and French Quarter or Disney's Saratoga Springs or Old Key West resorts can enjoy on-site watercraft service to Disney Springs!

Car Parking

Resort Parking

On-property Disney resorts do charge an overnight self-parking fee, so if you are staying at a Disney hotel, be sure to plan accordingly. This self-parking fee is NOT included in your vacation package total, so be prepared to settle up for this upon check-out.

Theme Park Parking

Disney offers three tiers of parking at all four of their main theme parks: Preferred; Standard and Oversized Vehicle.

Guests staying at Disney's on-property resorts receive complimentary Standard level parking to the four major theme parks. If guests want to upgrade to the Preferred level of parking, they can simply pay the difference.

Hopping to a different park later in the day? Don't worry! When you pay for parking at your first theme park of the day, you will receive a pass that guarantees that you won't have to pay again to park on that same day even if you hop to different parks. That's a great deal!

Also, while many of the theme park's self-parking lots can be a bit more of a walk, Disney often provides trams to make it easier for guests to reach their vehicles. At the end of a long day of Disney magic (and Disney walking!), those trams are a welcome sight for tired eyes (and feet!)

Some of the best mementoes of a Disney vacation are ALWAYS the photos! Whether you are capturing Cinderella's Castle as a majestic back-drop, or leaning in for a quick pic with a favorite character, priceless pictures speak volumes and help guests relive genuine memories of magical experiences for years to come, even after the end of their trip!

Disney's Memory Maker is a vacation package add-on with a pre-trip price tag of $169. This price tag increases to $199 if you add it on after the start of your Walt Disney World vacation.

Memory Maker Details

Anytime guests see a Photo Pass photographer while on resort property, they can have them snap a photo or two to be added to their Memory Maker photo gallery. Memory Maker affords ALL guests in a traveling party the opportunity to be in the photos! Instead of one traveler being stuck behind the camera, Photo Pass photographers have the ability to capture every guest every time in every shot! Photo Pass photographers can often be found at some of the most iconic photo spots across park property. They can be found at character meet and greets and sometimes at character dining locations. Throughout the parks, you may also see Photo Pass photographers offering special “Magic shots”. For “Magic shots,” photographers will “pose” all participating members in such a way that a special effect (usually a favorite animated Disney character!) can be specially added into and positioned in their photo after the fact. These photos really make the magic come alive!

After concluding the trip, guests are able to download the many (usually hundreds) photos from Memory Maker and reprint them at the guest’s discretion! That’s right! These photos can be printed using the photo printing service of choice and can be used in any way imaginable, such as images on holiday cards or in photo books, or reprints for picture frames and photo albums! There is so much flexibility with this photo add-on package and the priceless memories that inevitably accompany it. Memory Maker IS worth the investment! It is truly a long-lasting souvenir and a wonderful investment for guests wishing to preserve their precious memories of their magical Disney vacation experience!

Some Frequently Asked Questions

FAQ stands for “Frequently Asked Questions.” At Life is Better Traveling we have put together our FAQs from our hundreds of clients over the past 8 years.

01 When is the best time of year to go to Walt Disney World (WDW)?

The best time to take a WDW vacation is during the "off holidays" such as Veteran's Day, Martin Luther King Jr., or President's day weekends. If you plan a WDW around one of these holiday's you will see less crowds. We are also seeing less crowds right after school lets out in June, and right before kids go back to school at the end of August.

02 How much do I have to save to take a Walt Disney World vacation?

How much to save will depend on the number of days you want to spend at WDW. The more days you stay, the more you will need to save. If you are planning on staying at a deluxe resort for a week you will have to save more than if you want to stay at a value resort for the weekend. Ticket pricing remains the same regardless if you stay at a deluxe resort or a value resort.

03 Are there rooms that will fit a family of 5 comfortable?

Yes, there are several resorts on property that have rooms that are great for accommodating families of five. Many of these rooms have a fifth berth either as a pull out or sofa chair. There are rooms on property too that can accommodate up to 14 people. These will be the villas that were discussed earlier.

04 Is the dining plan worth the money?

Currently Disney is not offering any dining plans. However, we do believe that they will bring them back. With a dining plan, you are prepaying for your dining. You pay a fixed amount per day for quick service meals and/or table service meals depending on the plan you choose. So if the prices at the parks go up, you are still paying that fixed price. So yes, the dining is worth paying in advance.

05 What is the difference between staying on property versus off property?

If you stay on property you do get a few extra perks such as Extra Magic Hours which allow you to get into the park before those guest staying off property. When staying on property you also have transportation that takes you to the theme parks, water parks, and Disney Springs. Transportation includes the monorail, skyliner, or buses.

06 How many days do I need for each park?

If you are planning to go for an entire week, Saturday to Saturday, then we recommend doing five days in the parks, one day at the resort enjoying the pool, and one day to either do Disney Springs, Miniature Golf, a water park, or another day in the parks. We also recommend incorporating one down day so everyone can recharge.

07 If I go during a holiday season, do I have to pay extra for the events?

If there is an event going on that requires you to have a different ticket than the regular admission ticket to enter the park, then yes you will have to pay for that ticket. During the holiday seasons there are plenty of decorations, shows, fireworks, and food that you can enjoy just for having the regular admission ticket.

08 Are there FastPasses still?

Currently there is a new system called Genie that has replaced the previous FastPass reservation system. Please refer to the Genie FAQ below.

09 What is the difference between Genie and Genie plus?

The new Disney Genie+ program is the paid aspect of the Disney Genie program at Walt Disney World. This new paid program includes over 40 of your favorite Walt Disney World attractions across all four theme parks.

10 How do I get from the airport to my resort hotel?

As of January 2, 2022 the Walt Disney World company will no longer be providing the Magical Express as a transportation option to get to the hotel. There are several different modes of transportation that can take you and your Life is Better Traveling travel agent can help you figure out which is the best for you and your family.

What's next?

We understand that you may have some questions even after reading through all this amazing information. Now is the time to contact one of the travel agents at Life is Better Traveling.
